INAUGURAL ADDRESS

by Mayor Sumner W. Watson

Gentlemen of the City Council:

We have just completed the year 1933, one of the hardest in the history of our City.

Many specific recommendations were made at the first of the year, but owing to unusual conditions it has been impossible to carry them to completion. Most of our effort has been expended in relief of the unemployment situation.

For the coming year I have no set plans to offer, but I promise my every effort to cooperate with you in meeting every problem squarely as it comes for the purpose of doing the greatest good for the greatest number.

Note:

The working funds of the Department shows a deficit of $4,583 89 to January 1, 1933, caused mainly by several 6" Main Extensions, voted by Council, during the year and replacement of 2" Mains to better serve outlying communities. The Water Department has given during the year, by vote of Council $70,000 00 of its reserve earnings to the general City account.

I have examined the foregoing account of receipts and expenditures of the Water Works for the year ending December 31, 1933, and find the same correctly cast and properly vouched.

REPORT OF CITY SOLICITOR

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council of the City of Rochester:

The following actions have been disposed of during the past year: Rochester Factory Holding Company against the City of Rochester, and Robert Carr against the City of Rochester:

The Rochester Factory Holding Company action was a petition for abatement of taxes. This matter was referred to the City Assessors who brought about a final adjustment satisfactory to all parties.

The action of Robert Carr was to recover for damages alleged to have been received by reason of a defective culvert on Franklin Street. This case was referred to W. H. Roberts, Master, who found for the City of Rochester on all issues.

There is pending and unsettled the case, James McAllister against the City of Rochester, on the Superior Docket. This is a claim for gravel which McAllister says the City of Rochester took from his bank without payment being made to him. This action was originally brought by the late Samuel D. Felker, is on the trial list, for the February Term, if not disposed of sooner by adjustment.

The action of Smith and Rumery of Portland, Maine, against the Rochester Trust Company, Rufus and Lillia Shorey, the City of Rochester, and Sumner W. Watson individually and as Mayor of the City of Rochester, is on the trial list to be disposed of at the February Term of the Superior Court for Strafford County. This is a petition for cancellation of a deed given by the City of Rochester to Rufus and Lillia Shorey under its claim acquired by tax sale to the City of Rochester for unpaid taxes owned by the said Shoreys and the reconveyance by the City of Rochester to said Shoreys on payment of said tax, it being alleged that the said Smith and Rumery had certain liens on said property by reason of mechanics liens acquired when they furnished building material to said Shoreys.

In addition to the handling of the civil cases above set forth, your City Solicitor has had one hundred and ten conferences with citizens of Rochester, two hundred and fifty-two conferences with city officials, twenty-one conferences with attorneys on cases in Superior Court, ten conferences with witnesses on these cases in Superior Court, drawn seventeen deeds, all in the City Solicitor's office.

In addition thereto are the numbers of Complaints and Warrants drawn and the Municipal Court work already reported by the City Marshal in his monthly reports, together with services in many juvenile cases.

We have also drafted many contracts for the City, and rendered services in drawing amendments to City Ordinances.

There have been many services rendered outside of the City Solicitor's office in conferences with City Officials, making trips to various locations viewing property involved in City disputes and services in Concord, Boston and Haverhill, as well as in Rochester on P. W. A.

Respectfully submitted,

GUY SMART,

City Solicitor.

Jacobs, Clerk of the Municipal Court of Rochester for the year ending December 31, 1933 and I find them as set forth in the above statement with all payments to the Treasurer properly receipted for and a cash balance on hand of $308.28.

GARDNER S. HALL,

REPORT OF SEALER OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

I took this position May 1st, 1933. The State Sealer of Weights and Measures, Mr. E. H. Thomas had been over all of the scales and measures previous to the above date.

Since taking this position, I have made the following inspection:

- 5 Trips to North Rochester (2 stores).
- 7 Trips to Gonic.
- 8 Trips to East Rochester.
- 4 Trips to Meaderboro Corner.

In my jurisdiction there are 46 Public Gas Stations with 176 pumps. When a pump is out of order, it is tagged,—when it is repaired, it has to be tested again.

In addition to the above, I have tested all hay scales, spent an entire day on the scales in the various mills, I have measured ten wood trucks and in berry season keep track of berry boxes.

My equipment for this work weighs 500 pounds.

JAMES CALLAHAN,
Sealer of Weights and Measures.

REPORT OF CHIEF ENGINEER OF FIRE DEPARTMENT

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council:

In rendering my report of the Fire Department for the year ending December 31, 1933, I would state that we have been very fortunate in not having many serious fires, but we may not always be so fortunate, therefore, it stands us in hand to be prepared for whatever emergency may arise by having up-to-date equipment.

There have been 19 bell alarms, 108 still alarms, mostly chimney fires, 23 brush and forest fires in the City proper; 6 bell alarms, 5 still alarms, 1 brush and forest fire at East Rochester; 9 bell alarms, 15 still alarms, 3 brush and forest fires at Gonic; making a total of 189 alarms for the year.

Out of town calls: We assisted Somersworth, March 12, Center Strafford, July 21, Dover, August 3, and Farmington September 14.

The amount of property involved in fires is as follows:

Value of buildings	$85,400 00
Insurance on same	83,244 20
Losses paid	27,474 94
Value of contents	50,836 34
Insurance on same	23,450 00
Losses paid	6,116 94

I will recommend that the City purchase another pumping car with a booster pump on it. We can still see that a pump of this kind would have been a great help in the farming district this year. It would save calling Gonic or East Rochester pumps which leaves them without protection.

I will also recommend that the City purchase 500 feet of 2½-inch rubber lined double jacket hose as Gonic and East Rochester are lacking for hose.

I will also recommend that the City purchase some new fire alarm boxes this year to take the place of some of the old boxes which are in bad shape.

In behalf of the Fire Department I will take this opportunity to extend our sincere thanks to all those who have been kind and have given to the Department to show that they appreciate its good work.

In behalf of the Board of Engineers, I will take this opportunity to extend our sincere thanks to all the Officers and Members of the Fire Department for the promptness in which they have discharged their duties during the past year.

In conclusion I will take this method to thank the Mayor and Fire Committee and Members of the City Council for what they have done for the Fire Department during the year just ended.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN F. NUTE,
Chief of the Fire Department

It is also larger due to the fact that several bills incurred during the year 1932 were not presented for payment until 1933.

SUMMARY SHEET

Board and care of adults, July 1, 1933 to November 30, 1933	282 97

Board and care of children, July 1, 1933 to November 30, 1933	826 23
Old age assistance, July 1, 1933 to Novem- ber 30, 1933	1,068 86

Wood account $1,279 80

Grand total $7,769 21
 25 per cent. of the above amount due from

City of Rochester $1,942 30

Following the above is a list of the names of recipients, the amount against each name and for what the payment was made.

A bill of this nature does not show on what dates and where the goods were purchased. The City of Rochester has been charged $1,279.80 on wood account when both city and county charges have received the wood.

Heretofore all bills which the City of Rochester has paid have been itemized. After payment, the itemized bills and cancelled checks have been filed and can be referred to at once. This has been so since 1913.

It would seem that the State of New Hampshire should be required to render an itemized bill just as ordinary citizens are compelled to do so.

I should consider the City Council Committee on Claims and Accounts remiss in its duty, if it approved for payment a bill rendered in such form.

Respectfully submitted,

FORREST L. KEAY,

Overseer of Poor.

REPORT OF LIBRARY TRUSTEES

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council:

Gentlemen:—The Board of Trustees of the Rochester Public Library respectfully submit its fortieth annual report, together with the report of the librarian and the city treasurer.

For the distribution of the moneys appropriated by the City Council and that received from the income of the endowment funds we refer you to the detailed report of the librarian. We think they have been wisely and equitably distributed to meet the widely diversified tastes of the reading public.

The library must be painted, and the interior re-finished throughout. This cannot be done from the funds now available. It would be a boon to the library, and a lasting honor to the donor, if some one would establish an endowment, the income from which should be used exclusively for the physical needs of the library. We hope that some one public spiritedly inclined will think favorably of this suggestion.

The library has been conducted during the year in its usual efficient manner and the entire personnel is to be congratulated for their work well done.

JOSEPH F. SWEET.

Secretary.

Rochester Public Library Opened Forty Years Ago

Reprinted from The Rochester Courier

"Forty years have passed since that bleak October morning when the door was unlocked into what was to become the Rochester Public Library."

This arresting statement introduces Miss Parshley's annual report to the library trustees. The Courier decided that the fortieth anniversary was an appropriate time to give its readers the very interesting story of the founding of the Rochester Public Library, the history of its growth, and to recall some of the forgotten but vitally interesting facts connected with our present library system.

Everything worth while comes first from someone's ideal, publicly expressed, followed by an enthusiastic and persistent effort on the part of some person or group of persons, to make this ideal a reality. In this case the Rochester Grange furnished the ideal, a publicly expressed wish that Rochester might have a free public library. The Rochester Courier furnished the "enthusiastic and persistent effort to make this ideal a reality." Because of this persistency, augmented by the public demand which followed the suggestion, the city council finally took action and voted an appropriation for this purpose.

This was under the administration of Hon. O. A. Hoyt, mayor, who became chairman, ex-officio, of the board. The first trustees elected were: Josiah Whittier (East Rochester), of whom more anon, William W. Allen, Hon. Charles S. Whitehouse (Gonic), John Young, Dr. James Farrington and J. Edgar McDuffee. Mr. McDuffee was the first secretary of the board, and chairman of the book committee, and his interest and devoted labor played a large part in the success of the project. He served in this same capacity until his final illness, in 1899, necessitated his resignation. His brother, Willis McDuffee, was elected to his place, and the latter still serves on the board of directors, being the oldest member in point of service. These organizing trustees were men of great vision. They foresaw the future growth of the city, and of the library. They chose at that time a system of classification and a method of circulation, which has continued to the present, and which is the same system which was later adopted by many of the largest college and public libraries throughout the country. The details of this perfect system were largely the work of Mr. Whittier of East Rochester, as is recited in fuller detail in another portion of this brief history.

This newly elected board of directors were brought face to face with the proposition of selecting a librarian. Twenty-three applicants they had from whom to chose. They did rather an amazing thing. They sought one from without this list, whose business training had fitted her for a position of responsibility and asked her if she would accept the position. While she was considering the question, they met and elected her to the office. Again their wisdom and great vision is proven, in the fact that the first librarian, selected by them has continued in that capacity to the present day, Miss Lillian Parshley. Throughout the years, she has given her untiring efforts, and her unceasing devotion to her office as librarian. Constantly she has in mind the purpose for which a library exists, to bring good books to the people, and good people to the books. She studies the needs of the community, of the schools, the clubs, and makes every effort to see that their needs are supplied, in so far as the book allowance makes it possible.

About ten years ago, through her suggestion, the trustees voted to send two of the library assistants, Miss Foss and Miss Baril, to the summer library school at N. H. University, to study improved methods and bring back refreshing ideas. These young ladies came back imbued with a fine spirit, and with the idea that library work was a most interesting profession, but with the conviction that their own library and its methods were thoroughly up to date and satisfactory.

An amusing incident comes to mind of a young man who worked in the library during a great part of his high school course. Later he went to school in Boston and got a position in one of the very fine suburban libraries, by way of financial assistance. Having been set a certain task, he discovered that their method was much more cumbersome and less efficient than the method he had been taught in Rochester. He summoned the librarian and reported this fact, explaining in detail the advantage of the Rochester method. He was told to proceed in his own way. He did, and the Rochester system was thereafter adopted.

Visitors who spend their summer months in surrounding towns are enthusiastic in their praise of the library, its up-to-date books and its very efficient and courteous service. For a small fee, summer residents have the library privileges, and many letters have been received expressing appreciation and amazement at finding such "a remarkably well chosen library in such a small town."

In 1900 the library received a gift of $1,000 from the estate of the late Jennie I. Farrington. The interest of this fund is used for children's books. In 1918 Miss Olive Maria Woodward's estate bequeathed the sum of $100. The interest on this fund is accumulating for the present. In 1927, $5,000 became available from the Abbie McDuffee Chase estate, and the gift of the late Mary Dudley Felker has just been turned over, principal and interest amounting to $6,162.75. These gifts are a great encouragement to the librarian, and to the trustees, who have so many demands to meet with a very inadequate appropriation for a rapidly increasing patronage.

Rochester is indeed fortunate in the character of the men who have always been available for the governing board of its library. Joseph F. Sweet is at present the secretary of the board, and he is vitally interested in and deeply devoted to the work of this institution. Our hearty congratulations to the Rochester public library on this fortieth anniversary. To Miss Parshley, the faithful and efficient librarian through all these years. To her able assistants, Miss Foss and Miss Baril, who have given many years of devoted service in their positions—and to the city of Rochester for a library of which we may all be proud. This institution is an outstanding illustration of the truth that "large oaks from little acorns grow," as a further perusal of this interesting history will reveal.

The old social library, established in 1792, was one of the oldest of such institutions in New England. It was a private association of individuals, who contributed to start the library and to maintain it. Outsiders were also permitted to take out books by the payment of a small annual fee. This library was located in the law office of Henry Kimball, Esq., in Hayes block, and Mr. Kimball was the librarian. Books were given out only on Saturday afternoons and evenings. Although the library was small, it contained a good selection of standard literature and each year were added a number of volumes of the best new books, especially in the line of fiction. Not a few citizens now living can testify that, as boys and girls, they got their first glimpses into the literary treasures of the English library by means of the old social library, and formed thereby the reading habit.

When the establishment of a municipal free public library became an assured fact, the stockholders in the social library met and voted to turn over their books, which numbered about 2,000 volumes, to the city and those volumes became the nucleus of the new library.

Col. Whitehouse, who was Rochester's first mayor, never qualified as library trustee, and for some time ward three was not represented. Later, Stephen C. Meader was chosen and served until his death.

J. H. Whittier, who was bookkeeper in the Cochecho mills at East Rochester, was the secretary of the state library commission and an enthusiast on the subject of free public libraries. A large part of his life was devoted to the library work. He was the author of a law compelling towns and cities in the state to make an annual appropriation for public libraries, the most advanced library legislation in the world. After a long struggle and many failures, the law was finally passed in modified form, through the efforts of the writer of this article, who was a representative in the legislature of 1895. How that law was adopted is a long and interesting story in itself, which perhaps we will tell later.

Mr. Whittier had made a deep study of library methods and endeavoring to have a uniform system for the libraries of New Hampshire. He had a large hand in the installation of the system which was adopted for our library and which has been in vogue since. And this system has since been adopted in many of the large college and public libraries of the country.

William W. Allen was the principal of the high school and a most successful educator. John Young later succeeded J. Edgar McDuffee as secretary of the board, a position which he held as long as he lived. Dr. Farrington was an old-time successful physician and an ex-member of the governor's council.

The library was at first located in Barker block, in the store now occupied by Mahoney's Specialty shop. A counter divided the store, behind which were the book shelves. A reading room was also established. Later, when the city purchased the old John McDuffee homestead on Wakefield street and moved the municipal offices there, the upper half of the old house was utilized for the library.

Soon, however, the need of a separate library building became more and more apparent. One of the trustees then wrote to Andrew Carnegie, who was at the time giving millions for such buildings all over the country. Nothing came of this letter, but afterwards, Rochester's postmaster O. B. Warren, through Senator Jacob H. Gallinger, got into touch with Mr. Carnegie, and the present handsome building on South Main street was the result.

Today the library has outgrown this building and increased accommodations are going to be imperative before long.

The present board of trustees consists of Mayor Sumner W. Watson, James C. Pringle, Fred P. Meader, Hon. Harry H. Meader, Henry Grondin, Willis McDuffee and Joseph F. Sweet who is the present secretary of the board.

REPORT OF LIBRARIAN

To the Board of Trustees of the Rochester Public Library:

Gentlemen:—Forty years have passed since that bleak October morning when the door was unlocked into what was to become the Rochester Public Library.

Books, the gift of the Social Library organized in 1792, were in piles on the floor. One desk and one chair was the only furniture and from those books, plus the teacher of library science, chosen to organize the library and to teach the newly elected librarian the science of her unsolicited position, a public library was to be evolved.

More furniture and more books arrived but it was not until the twenty-second of January, 1894, that the library was able to open its doors to an impatient public. This report which I present is therefore the thirty-ninth to be rendered by the librarian.

"The years like great black oxen tread the world" but the city council has ever been the arbiter of our fate and the needs of an interested public the herdsman who has goaded us on.

From the small beginning of 2,429 volumes and a circulation of 21,936, supported by an appropriation of $1,500, from which rent had to be paid, in 1894, it has climbed slowly to 31,335 books and a circulation of 95,294, with an appropriation during the last seven years of $7,500 per year.

To that first 2,429 books have been added 31,018 volumes. Books have worn out, have been destroyed or lost by patrons or stolen from the shelves until the number after deducting a loss of 2,112 is the number reported above.

The library which in those early days seemed to the non-reading taxpayer a luxury which the city could ill afford has proved itself one of its chief assets and a necessity to the people.

From its small beginning it has forged ahead slowly along the ways which other libraries have travelled and, with the needs and requirements of its own special community ever in mind, done the things as far forth as possible which other libraries have done.

Thus it is, that during the year 1933, among the 95,294 books which its more than 5,000 readers have read you will find many of the books which people in the larger communities are reading and studying and which are being recommended and reviewed by the expert critics of the hour.

The readers of recent years delight in non-fiction and fiction has been less than sixty per cent. of the circulation this year. Few duplicates of modern books have been purchased, the patrons have patiently awaited their turn for a popular book by way of the postal system in order that more of the new titles might be purchased.

From the interest of the John McDuffee fund 59 reference books and volumes of local interest and New Hampshire history have been bought and twenty books for children from the interest of the Jennie Farrington fund. The interest of the Samuel D. Felker fund which came to us this year is to be used for religious books, books of science, civics and history. This was a most welcome gift as much needed books in these departments are expensive and it releases the regular book allowance for the ten remaining departments.

More than fifty per cent. of our citizens hold library cards either at the main library, or at the Gonic and East Rochester branches. New comers in less than a week after their arrival in town have come to register and obtain a card. Many of the East Rochester and Gonic readers have preferred to borrow books from the main library hence the falling off in circulation at each of the branch libraries.

The library has attracted to its brightly lighted rooms an ever increasing number of readers and students. The number this year being 17,613. It has always had a large following of young people who have come to look over books and magazines, have stayed to read a while or borrow a book to take home. 4,712 readers have been counted and 19,612 books have been given out from the children's room.

Please note in the statistics for 1933 which follow, that only one book is unaccounted for in the large circulation of the year. This missing book "Bobbsey twins at home" by Laura Lee Hope was taken from the children's room without being charged. We hope it will come back some day.

The work this year as in preceding years has been carried on with the same attention to detail. Each library book whether in the library or out and each bit of information can be traced with a few minutes notice. 835 interesting or useful books have been purchased and put into shape for circulation, 9,678 used books have been repaired by the members of the staff and 403 volumes rebound.

During the year gardens have given to us of their flowers and donors have come bearing gifts, from the man or woman with an interesting paper or clipping or a dollar for a book to the generous gift of Mary Dudley Felker. For each and every gift, every kindness or word of appreciation, we return our grateful thanks.

The library which holds such an important place in the community has not "just grown." Into its building has gone much thought, much study and many hours of work, not measured by the hours which it has been opened to the public. It is not a prosy library filled with dusty books and volumes of dry statistics but it is filled to overflowing with interesting and usable books and seems popular not only to those in search of recreation but to the seeker after wisdom as well, as the 2,143,392 books which have been given out from the library during the forty years must show.

To the Trustees who have been important factors in the growth of the library, ever wise in their advice and helpful in their counsel throughout all the years and to those faithful assistants of the past and of the present who have helped to carry on the work and especially to the two assistant-librarians who have given such faithful and unfailing service Miss Foss who has held her position almost twenty years and Miss Baril for fifteen, I offer my most sincere thanks and appreciation.

Respectfully submitted,

LILLIAN E. PARSHLEY,

Librarian.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the Members of the School Board:

I herewith present the forty-second annual report of the Rochester School Department, and the first under my supervision. During my short experience in Rochester schools it has been my policy not to suggest changes or to make recommendations that will effect any marked departure from established procedure.

On my election in Rochester Commissioner Pringle told me that this school system has been well organized and administered. That report has been fully confirmed by my observations thus far.

HEALTH WORK

Health work in our public schools comes under three divisions—health instruction, the work of the school nurse, and provision for milk lunches for those children whose condition makes such lunches advisable.

Health instruction aims at the formation of sound health habits by systematic teaching of the principles of proper food, clothing, bodily care, and physical exercise. Emphasis must constantly be put upon the statutory requirement to teach the injurious effects of alcohol and narcotics; and such education will become increasingly important in all public schools.

Milk lunches are provided for those children whose nutrition is unsatisfactory. The three ways in which these lunches are financed are by the pupils themselves, by interested contributors, and by Federal funds. A total of 207 bottles of milk per day is now being delivered to pupils of the public and parochial schools and paid for by Federal money with the approval of the State Board of Education. Before Federal appropriations were available a considerable quantity of milk was purchased with the proceeds of the Milk Fund benefit picture presented at the Scenic Theatre.

The work of the school nurse is of paramount importance in all of our efforts to promote health. The following information taken from her report presents an impressive record of achievement and a challenge to greater effort.

Number of pupils examined	1556
Pupils with hypertrophied tonsils	116
Pupils with defective teeth	397
Pupils with defective vision	48
Pupils with defective hearing	40
Federal milk being supplied to public schools	83 jars
Federal milk being supplied to parochial schools	124 jars
Vision improved (by securing glasses)	17
Removal of tonsils and adenoids	8
Correction of dental defects	6
Correction of orthopedic defects	3

PRACTICAL ARTS

The work in Practical Arts is a valuable and almost indispensable part of our school program. At the same time that a pupil is achieving mental growth, as in academic subjects, he is developing manual skill, judgment, precision, and an appreciation of the utility of his work. While it is to be deplored that the value of any school subject should be measured in dollars and cents, if such measure is to be applied Practical Arts scores high. Such work is not to be recommended for all pupils any more than Latin or higher mathematics but it does meet a very real need for certain ones. Our schools are serving more and more young people whose needs and aptitudes are not the same as those for whom high schools, in particular, were established and it would be folly to attempt to meet their needs by a completely traditional type of work. No physician would insist upon treating a victim of measles for diphtheria merely because a member of the patient's family was helped by such treatment.

Why this discussion and defense of Practical Arts? To emphasize two points. Public school membership is rapidly changing and will continue to include a growing number of young people whose abilities and needs are entirely different from those of earlier generations of school pupils. Practical Arts seems to offer a fortunate answer to the question of what to do for this increasing number of young folks with widely different capabilities. In spite of the attacks made on this work in many communities and attempts to stamp it as a frill, it is my belief that present needs indicate an extension rather than a curtailment of Practical Arts.

The second point is this: we should bear in mind that most changes and revisions come about as the result of a demonstrated need, and we should recognize that fact in estimating the value of work which appears new and strange to some of us. School procedure must keep pace with the changing demands of an ever changing school population.

MUSIC

Two local people having a strong interest in music offered to assist in the restoration of music instruction in Rochester schools by volunteering to serve for whatever compensation the board might be able to pay. Their services would be donated if no funds were available during 1933. The offer was accepted by the school board and the superintendent was requested to make terms and schedules for the resumption of music instruction.

On October 24 Mr. J. E. A. Bilodeau began the organization of a high school orchestra and band, and classes for the instruction of those who wished to begin taking lessons on any of the wind instruments. These activities were open to pupils of grades seven and eight as well as members of the high school.

On November 6, 1933, Miss Helen Lightbody became a teacher of music in the elementary schools and director of chorus work in the high school.

The young people of our city were thus given a splendid opportunity to cultivate both vocal and instrumental talent. The skills and abilities thus acquired will serve them well in properly and agreeably taking their places in the civic and social life of their community.

TRANSPORTATION

Transportation contracts were let in August for a three-year period. The total cost of transportation for 1933-34 will be slightly in excess of the amount paid in 1932-1933 because of an increase in the number of children transported on the Dry Hill and Salmon Falls routes. The unexpected transfer of several parochial school pupils to the public schools accounts for the increase. Transportation of pupils has been a fruitful source of controversy at all times and in all communities. In our local situation earnest effort has been made to reduce differences to a minimum.

The transfer and transportation of parochial school pupils suggest a point over which there may be some misunderstanding. The public schools are in no way interested to encourage the transfer of pupils; on the contrary, transfers during the school year are not welcomed. However, if public school enrollment is requested it cannot be denied. Parents have the privilege of selecting the school to which their children shall be sent, but the public schools cannot withhold membership from any worthy applicant.

TESTS

The very comprehensive testing program recently carried out in Rochester by the State Board of Education presented a definite picture of organization and progress in the schools of our city. During the current school year the local testing program includes intelligence tests for grades one and two, and arithmetic tests for grades three to eight inclusive, language tests for grades six, seven, and eight, spelling for all grades, and one general achievement test. The results of those tests now completed are very satisfactory.

MAPLE STREET TEACHER

A very necessary addition was made to the teaching force by the employment of a teacher for grade six in the Maple Street School, effective September 25, 1933. Mrs. Meader and Miss Smith opened their schools with two grades in each room and a most unfortunate condition of over-crowding. The organization of the sixth grade in a school by itself relieved both conditions.

Double grade assignments still appear in the schools at Gonic and East Rochester and there seems now to be no way to effect a change. However, I believe that a way should be found to avoid the assignment of both grades six and seven to the same room. Grades seven and eight constitute a much more acceptable couplet for one teacher instruction.

The repairs listed below were decided upon and completed under the administration of Superintendent Buker.

5. Two entrances painted inside.
6. Steps, swings, teeters and flag pole painted.

GENERAL

1. Window cords were renewed and glass reset where needed.

In addition to the above list the Allen School boiler was replaced during the Christmas vacation. This replacement was made as the result of an adverse report from the insurance company.

While the list may seem somewhat extensive at first sight, I believe it is good economy to maintain a progressive repair program year by year rather than to allow an accumulation. That is the reason why an extensive repair plan should be considered for the year 1934. Accordingly the following major repairs for 1934 are suggested.

GONIC SCHOOL

1. Point up outside walls.
2. Renew old iron pipes in basement.
3. Strengthen eaves finish so that gutter supports can be attached.
4. New doors at entrances.

ALLEN SCHOOL

1. Cover returns in basement.
2. Whiten boys' basement.
3. Refinish ceilings where necessary.
4. Point up outside walls.

EAST ROCHESTER SCHOOL

1. Overhaul heating pipes in basement.
2. Cover returns.
3. Paint the building if possible.

Either Gonic or Allen School lighting equipment should be changed according to the recommendations and plans submitted by the lighting engineers who made the survey reported elsewhere.

These constitute the repairs which seem to me to demand priority of consideration. Municipalities as well as individuals may delay necessary expenditure but cannot avoid it in the end, and they usually pay more because of the postponement.

INCREASED ENROLLMENT

Enrollment in the schools of the city showed an increase of about ten per cent. over that of 1932, both in elementary and high schools. Whether such increase is likely to be permanent or transitory will determine the seriousness of our school housing problem. The only two schools which are capable of much expansion are those at Gonic and East Rochester; all others are filled nearly to capacity. Should a gain of approximately ten per cent. be experienced in the fall of 1934, thus duplicating the experience of 1932 and 1933, Rochester will be face to face with the necessity of providing additional school house space.

The number of tuition pupils from nearby towns is the most convincing proof of the regard in which Rochester schools are held. Besides the personal satisfaction we may have in their choice of our schools we derive further profit from the contact with pupils who have been educated in other school systems.

RECOMMENDATIONS

At my request two lighting engineers from the office of The Twin State Gas and Electric Company made a survey of the lighting equipment in the East Rochester, Gonic, and Allen Schools. Their tests with a light meter showed that the intensity of illumination is considerably below the standard agreed upon as safe for the eyes of children. My recommendation is that this board consider the advisability of replacing the present inefficient equipment in one school each year until danger of eye strain is averted. The Allen or Gonic school should be the one to receive first attention.

Throughout the city there are several children who do not seem to be happily placed in their respective classes, and whose work would probably be more profitable both to them and to the school under other conditions. I recommend that this board give careful consideration to a plan whereby such children can be placed in a group under the direction of a special teacher.

The restoration of Household Economics in grades seven and eight is earnestly recommended. I believe this work to be fully as essential to girls as Mechanic Arts to the boys.

My own observations and my conferences with the teachers convince me that the age of entrance to grade one ought to be raised. Research has shown that children are not able to master the technique of reading until well after the age at which they are now admitted to grade one in most school systems. It seems to me that we should set the minimum age for entrance at five years and nine months on October first of the year in which admission is sought and that no child below that age should be enrolled, unless he has been previously a member of some public school.

The latest published salary schedule in my possession was adopted several years ago and now appears to need revision. It is my intention to prepare a suggested salary schedule for this board to consider for adoption before the beginning of another school year. In my opinion any satisfactory schedule will fix definite minimum and maximum limits, establish annual rates of increase, and provide adequate salary recognition for approved professional improvement courses.

The wisdom of closing our school buildings during the Christmas vacation may well be questioned. It seems to me that whatever gain may result from elimination of janitors' salaries is more than offset by expenses incidental to reopening the schools and injury to the buildings themselves. I recommend that janitors be given half pay during the two weeks of Christmas vacation so that all buildings may be kept free from frost.

In my report I have presented for your consideration and discussion only those topics and recommendations which seem to me to be of paramount importance.

In conclusion I wish to thank all who, by a spirit of friendly cooperation, have helped to advance the interests of our young people, and in return to pledge my continued effort in the greatest work we are privileged to promote—the education of my child and yours.

Respectfully submitted,

ARTHUR S. ROLLINS

SCHOOL DEVELOPMENTS

1. The State Board of Education classifies the schools of the state into five divisions. Rochester was one of ten schools with an enrollment of 200-400 pupils for 1932 to 1933. The relative position of Rochester in its division as obtained from reports from colleges and normal schools for a five year period was two.

2. The enrollment in 1929 was 321 pupils, in 1933 it is 418 pupils, an increase of 79 pupils.

3. In 1929 there were 17 teachers, in 1933 there are 16 teachers.

4. In 1929 the teaching load was 19 pupils, in 1933 it is 23 pupils.

5. In 1929 ten teachers were teaching six periods per day and six teachers five periods. The headmaster was teaching two periods. In 1933 nine teachers are teaching six periods per day and six teachers five periods. The headmaster is teaching three periods.

6. Our average cost per pupil compares favorably with the state median which includes schools without vocational courses.

7. In 1929 three rooms were not available for high school use. This year the high school has the use of all of the rooms, and is using them to good advantage.

8. The table headed Registration by Courses shows an increase from 1929 to 1932 in the enrollment in our academic, commercial, and domestic arts courses, and from 1929 to 1931 in mechanic arts. Too many pupils were taking courses they could not carry successfully. The table of Statistical Comparisons shows too large a percentage of failures. This year we have added a general course to take care of these pupils who have been unable to adjust their needs to the old courses; 68 pupils are registered in this course. As a result our registration in the academic and commercial courses is back at the 1929 level. The registration in domestic arts has increased, and 84 girls are registered as it is offered as an elective in all courses except the academic. The mechanic arts registration has dropped from a peak of 67 in 1929 to 57 in 1933.

9. In 1929 to 1932 three men taught full time mechanic arts work. This year one man is teaching full time mechanic arts, one man four periods of mechanic arts and two periods of other work, and the third man grade work in mechanic arts plus three periods of other work.

10. The high school has changed from two sessions to one session.

11. There is an afternoon period each day, except Friday, from 2.45 to 4.00 for extra work with pupils, and for music, dramatics, extra-classroom work, and athletics.

12. Teachers' meetings planned and conducted by the teachers are held the first Monday of each month. Vocational Guidance has been the subject under discussion this fall.

13. A special 15-minute period has been scheduled each day for drill on the fundamentals.

14. The above examples of increases in efficiency have been brought about by changes in the curriculum. This year we are trying to equalize and evaluate the five courses of study rather than stress a particular course.

Conclusions drawn from a study of problems over a five-year period.

1. Losses by failure and withdrawal have been due in part to the fact that the pupil had no expectancy of finishing his high school course.

2. Losses by failure and withdrawal have been due in part to the average of the pupil.

3. The lack of energy that causes absence and tardiness is carried over into failure in studies.

4. Required courses for all pupils have been a serious cause of failure and withdrawals.

5. The presence or absence of a definite vocational aim is the cause of many failures and withdrawals.

6. Lack of guidance has been the cause of too many failures and withdrawals.

SUGGESTIONS FOR A GRADUAL DEVELOPMENT TOWARD MEETING THE NEEDS OF THE PUPILS

1. A continued study by the teachers of two problems: first, a testing and guidance program for the Rochester High School; second, a course of study for the Rochester High School that will meet the needs of all the pupils.

2. The adoption of a testing program.

3. The adoption of a guidance program based on the results of the testing program.

4. The enrichment of the curriculum by additional courses in social and physical science.

5. The gradual replacement of required by elective subjects, dependent upon the progress made in a testing and guidance program.

The curriculum composed of academic, commercial, general, domestic, and mechanic arts courses with their many required and few elective subjects does not meet the needs of the school. A testing and guidance program will justify the replacement of our five courses by one course, in which only two subjects, English and United States History are required, and in which all other subject matter will be elective. The response obtained by making the work in domestic arts elective over a period of the past three years strengthens this belief.

EXTRA CLASSROOM WORK

The Student Activity Association is playing a most important and successful part in the work of the school. It affords the pupils an opportunity to take an active interest in the activities in which they desire to participate. The aim is to allow pupils to carry the burden of administration under mature supervision. The fact that no activity has been curtailed in any way proves the value of the association. Several other New Hampshire High Schools have formed associations similar to ours. Mr. Hanson is the faculty advisor and Mrs. Stevenson the treasurer.

The class of 1933 has presented the Student Activity Association with $159 to be used toward the support of basketball.

REPORT FROM MR. HANSON OF THE MECHANIC ARTS DEPARTMENT MECHANIC ARTS

It would seem only fair that a statement of the aims or objectives of the Mechanic Arts course as organized under the plan adopted last year should be given here.

This type of education includes those forms of training and study based upon industrial pursuits and designed to enhance general intelligence and give vocational guidance in the field of industrial occupations.

The aim of the manual training or industrial arts course is to increase the student's knowledge of the world's work, to educate for appreciation of workmanship and intelligent consumption of the product of others, and to permit the individual to sample various kinds of work as a possible means of selecting the life-work or vocation. Such courses are of cultural or general educational value.

The Federal Board Bulletin No. 157 offers the following as among the objectives of Mechanic or Industrial Arts:

"1. Giving pupils information about different industrial occupations.

2. Discovering abilities of pupils.
3. Developing mechanical dexterity.
4. Training in home-mechanic skills.
5. Assisting in the development of motor-minded pupils.

6. Assisting in vocational guidance."

With these aims and objectives as stated it would seem only fair to open these courses to a larger group of pupils that those of scientific and motor minds might gain all possible benefit from the High School curriculum.

HONORS

The Dartmouth Medal was awarded to Ralph Witherall. The Springfield Scholarship was awarded to Gertrude Griney, now at the University of New Hampshire. The Woman's Club Scholarship was awarded to Donald Tripp. A large R was awarded to Wilma Lunt. The following seniors were awarded small R's: Wilma Lunt, Gertrude Griney, Carl Palmer.

TEACHERS

There have been no changes in the faculty. The result has been better teaching. All of the teachers work with pupils from 8 A. M. to 1.05 P. M. each day, and from 2.45 P. M. to 4.00 P. M. Mondays and Thursdays. There is a teacher on duty in a study room from 2.45 P. M. to 4.00 P. M. Each teacher has charge of at least one pupil activity. A large part of the time that a teacher is free must be spent each day in study, the planning of advance assignments, and the correcting of papers.

THE HEADMASTER

The following is the daily schedule of the headmaster.

7.30 to 8.05	Supervises opening of school. Opens mail. Aids in checking attendance. Conference with teachers, pupils and parents.
--------------	---

Period I 8.05 to 8.55	Teaches chemistry.
--------------------------	--------------------

Period II 8.55 to 9.40	Teaches chemistry.
---------------------------	--------------------

Period III 9.40 to 10.25	Work in chemistry laboratory, Tuesday and Thursday, laboratory days. Checks physical condition of building. Administrative work.
10.25 to 10.45	Supervises recess period.
Period IV 10.45 to 11.30	Visits classes.
Period V 11.30 to 12.15	Teaches Algebra.
Period VI 12.15 to 1.00	Administrative work. Pupil conferences. Visits classes.
1.00 to 1.15	Supervises dismissal.
1.15 to 2.30	Lunch.
2.30 to 2.45	Supervises opening of afternoon session.
2.45 to 5.00	Aids pupils in chemistry and algebra. Arranges demonstration apparatus in chemistry. Conferences with parents, teachers, and pupils. Supervises work of afternoon session which includes pupil recitations, discipline, attendance, orchestra, glee club, athletics, dramatics. Administrative work.

It is my judgment that in a school of 420 pupils and 16 teachers, if the maximum efficiency of the school is to be maintained, the work of the headmaster should be mostly supervisory and administrative. From an economic standpoint involving per pupil costs—it is unwise to pay a man for supervisory and administrative work and then have him devote half his time doing work that a teacher is able to do at one half the per pupil cost. It is also unwise to tie the headmaster with laboratory work when many times his presence is required elsewhere.

I suggest that for 1934 to 1935 the teaching load of the headmaster be reduced from three to two periods per day and that he teach subjects that do not require laboratory work. His schedule during recitation periods could then be arranged more effectively as follows:

1st period	Administrative work.
2nd period	Classroom teaching.
3rd period	Classroom teaching.
4th period	Classroom supervision. Guidance work with pupils.
5th period	Classroom supervision. Guidance work with pupils.
6th period	Classroom supervision. Guidance work with pupils.

I am convinced that the adoption of this suggestion will mean:

Better and more effective teaching.

Better discipline.

More and a higher grade of work accomplished by the pupils.

Fewer failures and withdrawals.

More efficient pupil guidance.

TO PARENTS

The teachers have your boy or girl for classroom instruction and some afternoon supervised work. The preparation of the assignment is accomplished in the study room under the supervision of the teacher, and in the home.

Most failures are due to lack of preparation. Most assignment work requires home study by pupils. It is most essential that parents supervise the study habits of their children in the home. Each subject assignment requires at least one hour of careful preparation.

I appreciate the suggestions I have received from the school board, superintendent, teachers, and pupils.

Respectfully submitted,

ELWOOD S. FRASER,

Headmaster.

CLASS ODE

Words—MARY E. DOW*Music*—EDWINA L. HALEY

Now we sail upon life's sea ;
We're launched and sailing free.
Troubled waters we may find,
But undaunted we'll sail on.
On life's ship, we'll leave behind
All troubled waves of storm
And our anchors we shall weigh
At the close of some new day.
Fruitful years we've cherished here,
Years richly filled with cheer.
Now, Oh Classmates, we must part,
And our journey we must take
Gay of courage, sad of heart—
Success of life at stake.
Bravely now, with heads held high,
We bid farewell—a last good-bye.
